

CURRICULUM VITAE — PhD ADMISSION

Ana Eslava-Graterol

Programme applied for: PhD Programme — Applied Linguistics

Department of Applied Linguistics · Universitat Politècnica de València (UPV), Spain

Research line: Language technologies and instructional design for language learning

Thesis proposal: MLLDE — Mobile Language Learning Design Environment: a method for integrating LLM tutors and AI literacy into CEFR curriculum design

Note on structure. This CV is organised exactly according to the call's scoring rubric (Academic record 70% + Other merits 30%, six merits worth 5% each), so the admissions committee can score each item without searching for the information. Every merit points to its supporting document through a [DOC-nn] code matching the index in the Annex (§8) and the order of the evidence PDF.

BLOCK A — ACADEMIC RECORD · 70 %

The heaviest-weighted block. A personal academic transcript with the grade-point average on the 0–10 Spanish scale is supplied for each degree, plus the official equivalence for the foreign degree.

A.1 · Master's Degree in Languages and Technology — Didactics specialisation

Universitat Politècnica de València (UPV), Spain — July 2026

INDICATOR	VALUE
Grade-point average	9.4 / 10
Distinctions (Matrícula de Honor)	2
Grade for the Academic Writing Journey project	10/10 (course "Simulation, Games and Technology Applied to Teaching Strategies and Research Methodology", Prof. Ricardo Casañ-Pitarch)
Evidence	UPV academic transcript [DOC-01] · Degree certificate [DOC-02]

Relevance to the doctorate. This master's is the direct access qualification for the programme and places the record in the upper band of the scale. The Didactics specialisation and UPV's Department of Applied Linguistics are precisely the setting of the MLLDE thesis proposal, which guarantees methodological and supervisory continuity.

A.2 · Licenciada en Educación, mención Inglés (Degree in Education, English major)

Research trajectory of the dissertation	Peer-reviewed and published in an indexed journal, then presented as a refereed paper at an international conference (§5.1)	[DOC-19] · [DOC-24]
Degree research lines	Curriculum design and English language teaching	—

The figure the committee enters into the 70% is 9.07/10, already computed and certified by the Spanish administration: the Declaración de equivalencia de la nota media del expediente académico de estudios cursados en el extranjero (General Secretariat for Universities, Directorate-General for University Policy), verified by the Regional Government of Andalusia and checkable online with CSV (CSV in the copy submitted to the committee) at <<https://sede.educacion.gob.es/cid>>. Nothing needs to be estimated or converted — the declaration is simply attached.

Relevance to the doctorate. The degree is in Education with an English major, with research lines in curriculum design and English language teaching — the original training is already in curriculum design, which is the object of the thesis. The final-year dissertation, graded 20/20 with a Rector's Diploma of Honour, did not stay in the file: it was peer-reviewed and published in an indexed journal (Kaleidoscopio, ISSN 1690-6054, indexed in CLASE–UNAM) and presented as a refereed paper at an international conference (§5.1). That is independent research capacity evidenced from the undergraduate stage onward.

✓ Doctoral access — resolved. On 17 June 2020 the Spanish Ministry of Universities declared the degree equivalent to the academic level of *Grado (branch of Arts and Humanities, specific field Languages) under RD 967/2014 [DOC-05B]. The access route is therefore complete, with nothing outstanding:
Foreign degree with official equivalence to Grado (Ministry, 2020) + official Spanish Master's Degree in Languages and Technology (UPV, 2026) → general doctoral access under Article 6, RD 99/2011.
Two points worth stating precisely in the application:
1. The equivalence is to Grado level, not to master's level. The qualification granting access is therefore the official UPV master's; the undergraduate degree enters the record as a previously recognised prior qualification. No additional "level verification" from the Doctoral School is required.
2. Equivalence ≠ homologación. The grade-average form shows "Título homologado/equivalente: NO" because homologación (to a specific Spanish degree conferring access to a regulated profession) is a different instrument, and the resolution itself states that the equivalence does not confer the right to practise regulated professions*. For doctoral admission that is irrelevant: what is required is the academic level, and it has been declared.

⚠ One administrative detail worth fixing — the identity chain. The documents arrive under two different names:

- Ana Zoraimy Eslava Graterol — ULA transcript and Academic Rank Certificate, Kaleidoscopio publication, scholarship certificate, "Ribas Dávila" Orders (one carrying the misspelling "Ana Soraymi").
- Ana Zoraimy Eslava de Morales — Ministry equivalence resolution (2020) and the international conference letter (2008).

It is the married surname, but the committee has no way of knowing that and will see two names in one file. Action: include a one-line identity note in the evidence PDF together with the document linking both names (national ID, marriage certificate, or a ULA certificate showing both forms), and use one name consistently across the CV and the proposal. A five-minute fix that prevents a formal-review query.

BLOCK B — OTHER MERITS • 30 %

The six merits are presented in the same order and wording as the call, each with its weight (5%), status and supporting document.

B.1 • Extraordinary award for the undergraduate degree — 5 % ✓ EVIDENCED AND APOSTILLED

First in the graduating class — 1st of 56 graduates, Degree in Education (English major), ULA – Núcleo Universitario "Dr. Pedro Rincón Gutiérrez", Táchira.

CERTIFIED FACT	VALUE
Class ranking	FIRST (1st) of FIFTY-SIX (56) graduates
Candidate's average	18.97 / 20
Cohort average	15.77 / 20
Margin over the cohort	+3.20 points
Document	Constancia de Rango Académico (Academic Rank Certificate), Student Records Office, ULA-Táchira, 13 January 2026 — signed by the Acting Head of Student Records and the Vice-Rector-Dean
Signature certification	ULA General Secretariat, security paper no. (no. in the copy submitted to the committee) , 30 January 2026; countersigned by the Rector. Verifiable at < http://www.ula.ve/ocgre/ > under no. (no. in the copy submitted to the committee)
International legalisation	Hague Apostille no. (no. in the copy submitted to the committee) , Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Caracas, 20-03-2026 — validatable with code (code in the copy submitted to the committee) at < https://consultalegalizacionve.mppre.gob.ve >

Associated distinctions: Summa Cum Laude and, for the final-year dissertation, a Diploma of Honour awarded by the Rector of ULA with a grade of twenty (20) points — Sobresaliente (Mérida, 15 November 2004) [DOC-07].

First place was not a one-off result. ULA conferred the Order "Luis María Ribas Dávila" — a rectoral distinction for the highest academic performance in the School of Education, Núcleo Universitario del Táchira — in four consecutive years:

YEAR	DISTINCTION	SIGNED BY
2000	Order "Luis María Ribas Dávila" — highest academic performance	Rector and General Secretary of ULA
2001	Order "Luis María Ribas Dávila" — highest academic performance	Rector and General Secretary of ULA
2002	Order "Luis María Ribas Dávila" — highest academic performance	Rector and General Secretary of ULA
2003	Order "Luis María Ribas Dávila" — highest academic performance	Rector and General Secretary of ULA

Four consecutive rectoral diplomas [DOC-07B] show that ranking 1st of 56 at graduation was the culmination of a sustained record, not the result of a single year. This is the argument to lead with if the committee hesitates over the equivalence with the Spanish Extraordinary Award.

How to word this for the committee — it matters. The Venezuelan document is not titled "Premio Extraordinario Fin de Carrera", because ULA does not issue an award under that name: it issues the Academic Rank Certificate, its functional equivalent, certifying exactly what the Spanish award evidences — having ranked first in the graduating class. Present it in those terms and attach the apostilled certificate: the committee then sees a verifiable number (1st of 56; 18.97 against 15.77) instead of a label it would have to interpret.

It is also the best-documented merit in the whole file: official certificate + Rectorate signature certification + Hague Apostille with an online validation code. No other rubric item reaches that standard of proof.

Evidence: Academic Rank Certificate with rectoral certification and apostille [DOC-06] · Diploma of Honour for the dissertation (20/20 Sobresaliente) [DOC-07].

B.2 · Extraordinary award for the master's degree — 5 % NOT APPLICABLE

The Extraordinary Award held is the undergraduate one (§B.1), not a master's award. No award is declared here.

What is declared instead, as the master's academic distinction — reinforcing Block A, not this item:

- 2 Matrículas de Honor in the Master's Degree in Languages and Technology (UPV, 2026).
- Grade-point average 9.4 / 10.
- 10/10 for the Academic Writing Journey project.

Why leaving this at zero is the right call. A Matrícula de Honor is a course-level grade; the Extraordinary Master's Award is a university resolution recognising the best record of the cohort. Declaring one as the other would void the merit and undercut the credibility of the rest of the CV — precisely when §B.1 does supply a real award, certified and apostilled. Should UPV later resolve the Extraordinary Award in your favour, add the resolution as [DOC-08] and this item begins to score.

Evidence: academic transcript showing the 2 Matrículas de Honor, included in [DOC-01].

B.3 · A second master's degree — 5 % NOT HELD AT PRESENT

As of this application, no second official master's degree is held besides the Master's in Languages and Technology (UPV).

What can be offered as complementary postgraduate training (it does not score in this item, but strengthens the file as a whole and is declared in §6):

- Instructional Design: Course Planning and Pedagogy — University of California, Irvine (Division of Continuing Education), January 2025.
- Instructional Design Fundamentals — University of Cambridge (Professional and Continuing Education), March 2025.
- AP Stylebook Workshop Certificate — The Associated Press, May 2024 (valid to December 2034).
- Digital Content Creation, Mobile Learning and Gamification — SEPE, 2024.

Strategic note. This is the only one of the six merits currently at zero. Leaving it honestly at zero is the right call: the committee values a coherent file, and the other five items are covered. Passing off specialist short courses as an official master's degree is not worth the risk.

B.4 · Knowledge of languages other than those of the previous degrees — 5 %

INTERPRETATION

Credentials supplied:

CREDENTIAL	AWARDING BODY	LEVEL / STATUS
C1 Advanced (CAE)	Cambridge English	C1 — official certificate [DOC-09]
CELTA	Cambridge English	English teaching qualification [DOC-10]
Accredited DELE examiner	Instituto Cervantes	Current accreditation [DOC-11]

Honest warning. The call scores languages other than those of the previous degrees. Since the undergraduate degree is an English major and the master's is in Languages and Technology, the committee may consider English already contained in the degrees and not count it here. Recommended strategy:

1. Submit them anyway — the C1 Advanced, the CELTA and the DELE accreditation strengthen Block A and merit B.6 even if they do not score here.
2. Argue in the application that the Instituto Cervantes DELE accreditation and the Cambridge CELTA are external professional qualifications, not competences derived from the degree syllabi.
3. Genuine improvement route (recommended for the next call): obtain an official certificate in a third language. In the Valencian context the most cost-effective is Valencian (JQCV / CIEACOVA, levels A2–B2, regular sittings, low cost), followed by French or Italian through the official language schools (EOI). A certified A2–B1 would be enough to activate this 5%.

Action: confirm with the committee, before the deadline, whether English counts in this item. If not, treat it like B.3.

B.5 · Scholarships and grants obtained — 5 % EVIDENCED

High Academic Performance Scholarship — Universidad de Los Andes, Núcleo Táchira. A merit scholarship, not need-based aid: it is awarded on academic performance, and here it follows directly from the four "Luis María Ribas Dávila" Orders (§B.1).

CERTIFIED FACT	VALUE
Name	Beca de Alto Rendimiento (High Academic Performance Scholarship)
Awarding body	Universidad de Los Andes – Táchira, Directorate of Student Affairs , Socio-Economic Student Assistance Office
Degree	Education, English major
Certified period	July – December 2003 , and still current at the date of issue
Document	Certificate signed by the ULA-Táchira Social Worker, San Cristóbal, 13 May 2004 [DOC-12]

Second scholarship — Ministry grant (master's, UPV).

#	SCHOLARSHIP	AWARDING BODY	DEGREE / PERIOD	TYPE	DOCUMENT
2	Ministry scholarship (general higher-education grant)	Ministry of Education [confirm the exact name of the call]	Master's in Languages and Technology, UPV · [year to complete]	General master's-level study grant	[DOC-13]

Why this merit reinforces Block A. The High Academic Performance Scholarship is not income-based aid: it is awarded on performance. It independently corroborates — from a different office than the one issuing grades — the very fact that carries the 70% academic record. Say so explicitly in the application: it turns the 5% scholarship item into a second source of proof for the record.

Action before submission: complete the academic year and the exact official name of the ministerial call, and locate its award resolution (a payment receipt does not evidence the merit).

B.6 · Professional experience in the field of the doctorate — 5 %

EVIDENCED — STRONGEST MERIT

More than 20 years of continuous experience in the exact field of the thesis, including 1,568 accredited university teaching hours: CEFR-aligned language teaching, curriculum and instructional design, and educational technology for language learning.

B.6.1 · University teaching and research

Scientific English Lecturer & Scientific Content Writer — Universidad de Oriente (UDO), Núcleo Nueva Esparta, Venezuela · 2005 – 2015

- 1,568 accredited university teaching hours (service certificate, [DOC-16]).
- Taught scientific English within science degree programmes.
- Wrote and reviewed scientific content in English (dentistry, marine biology) for high-impact peer-reviewed journals.
- Named in the acknowledgements of Sotelo-Casas et al. (2019), Estuarine, Coastal and Shelf Science (Elsevier), p. 8, for the manuscript's English and scientific content. [DOC-14]

B.6.2 · Instructional design and eLearning architecture

Instructional Designer & eLearning Architect — self-employed (Spain) · October 2019 – present · remote

- Academic Writing Journey (AWJ): 6-level gamified course in academic English B2 → C1, rated 10/10 for inclusive design (UPV, 2026). [DOC-15]
- Full module scripting and a professional High-Level Design Document (HDD).
- Documented human–AI governance model for content and code generation — the direct antecedent of the thesis's AI literacy component.
- Native accessibility layer (voice dictation, high contrast, audio read-back) compliant with WCAG and the European Accessibility Act.
- Migrated AWJ from Canva to Articulate 360 (Rise) with SCORM / xAPI packaging — technical competence directly reusable in the thesis's measurement module.

B.6.3 · Own venture and LMS administration

Founder & eLearning Content Designer — Talkétika · 2019 – present · remote

- Chamilo (LMS) administrator since 2019; gamified content on Moodle, Canvas LMS and Chamilo.
- Audiobook production in Adobe Podcast (scripting, editing, publishing).
- TK Coach Review — EdTech product evaluation site (mobile responsiveness and technology): <https://profeanaeslava.my.canva.site/tkcoachreview>

B.6.4 · CEFR-aligned language teaching

Language Teacher — ESL, Cambridge and DELE — various institutions · July 2004 – present

- 20+ years teaching English and Spanish to adults, in person and online.
- Tutor on AVE Global (Instituto Cervantes online Spanish classroom / LMS).
- CEFR-aligned learning paths and rubrics; Cambridge (B2 First, C1 Advanced) and DELE exam preparation.

Evidence: UDO service certificates [DOC-16] · Spanish employment history / self-employment certificate [DOC-17] · AVE Global tutoring accreditation [DOC-18] · online portfolio (link in §0).

Fit with the thesis. The four experience blocks map one-to-one onto the components of the MLLDE proposal: CEFR teaching → CEFR anchoring; instructional design → the MLLDE method; human–AI governance → AI literacy; SCORM/xAPI and LMS administration → the measurement module and learning-data architecture.

RUBRIC SUMMARY — SELF-ASSESSMENT

ITEM	WEIGHT	STATUS	MAIN EVIDENCE
Academic record	70 %	✓	UPV master's 9.4/10 with 2 distinctions · Undergraduate 9.07/10 (official grade equivalence) · degree with official equivalence to Grado
B.1 Extraordinary undergraduate award	5 %	✓	1st of 56 graduates (apostilled) + " Ribas Dávila " Order four years running
B.2 Extraordinary master's award	5 %	✗	Not applicable — the award is the undergraduate one
B.3 Second master's degree	5 %	✗	Not applicable
B.4 Languages beyond the degrees	5 %	⚠	C1 CAE · CELTA · DELE examiner — eligibility to confirm
B.5 Scholarships	5 %	✓	High Academic Performance Scholarship evidenced (ULA, 2003-04) · Ministry scholarship (master's)
B.6 Professional experience in the field	5 %	✓	1,568 accredited university teaching hours · 20+ years · ID 2019–present

Honest reading. Three merits are fully evidenced (B.1, B.5, B.6), one depends on the committee's interpretation (B.4) and two do not apply (B.2, B.3). That is roughly 15–20 of the 30 points, with the 70% academic record in the upper band (9.4 and 9.07 out of 10). The strength here is not the number of boxes ticked but the quality of the proof: the B.1 merit arrives apostilled with an online validation code, and the undergraduate record comes with its grade average already computed by the Spanish administration.

Where the remaining margin is. The only item improvable in the short term is B.4: an official certificate in a third language (Valencian A2–B1 through JQCV/CIEACOVA is the fastest and cheapest route) would activate that 5% without depending on anyone's interpretation.

5. Research output and dissemination

5.1 · A research trajectory that began with the final-year dissertation

The dissertation did not stay in the file: it ran the full research cycle — defence with the top grade → peer review and publication in an indexed journal → refereed paper at an international conference. It is the most direct evidence of independent research capacity that a doctoral application can carry.

Relevance to the thesis proposal. The object of that study — the graduate's profile measured against the teaching functions and linguistic competences set out in the curriculum reform — is, at bottom, the same problem MLLDE addresses twenty years later: how to align a curriculum design with a verifiable competence framework. The continuity of the research line is real, not rhetorical.
